VISIT AMSTERDAM LIKE A LOCAL

Quick Facts

Amsterdam is the Netherlands' capital, known for its artistic heritage, elaborate canal system and narrow houses with gabled facades, legacies of the city's 17th-century Golden Age. Its Museum District houses the Van Gogh Museum, works by Rembrandt and Vermeer at the Rijksmuseum, and modern art at the Stedelijk. Cycling is key to the city's character, and there are numerous bike paths.

To avoid the obvious tourist places, we have collected some of our favourite must see's & do's while you are in town. Like this, you will be visiting Amsterdam like a local!

Also, we've added our favourite vegetarian/vegan places for you where you can enjoy a 'happy' meal.

Amsterdam can be divided into 4 main areas: North, East, South and West.

All areas have their own flavour. If you want to explore Amsterdam like a local, rent a bike or explore the city by foot.

NORTH area – free ferry trip across the IJ River – a def must do!

This part of Amsterdam is a former shipping wharf area, now used as a space for artists/exhibitions/festivals and also includes offices and student housing.

To reach this part of the city, you have to cross the IJ-river. You can do so by taking the FREE ferry and treat yourself with a trip over the IJ River.

From the backside of the Central Station the free ferries depart to 3 parts of the North area.

We suggest you to take the ferry with destination NDSM wharf – a 20-minute trip. Have a stroll, enjoy the waterside and visit the great spots where you can have a coffee, lunch or a drink.

Some highly recommended food spots in this area are:

EAST area – a bustling melting pot

East (Oost) is one of the more undiscovered areas of Amsterdam. This neighbourhood is a bustling melting pot with many terrific hidden gems. It is one of the upcoming neighbourhoods in Amsterdam! It seems that a new hotspot pops up almost every day. The East area is nearby the city centre, but has such a different vibe. A drink at the rooftop of The Volkshotel is a must to enjoy the stunning views over Amsterdam!

Feel as if you visit Turkey when you are in the Javastraat or feel and taste Surinam when visiting the Dappermarkt.

Some highly recommended vega(n) food spots in this area are:

WEST area - you'll want to revisit this vibrant neighbourhood time and time again

This part of the city is also called Oud-West, and is a special corner of Amsterdam - a popular, dynamic neighbourhood. Like the East part, the West area also is a melting pot, mainly with Moroccan and Turkish shops combined with trendy stores and cafes.

One of the newest places to go for food, film, fashion, crafts, retail, and architecture is the Hallen, a historic former tram depot totally transformed.

Westerpark - for some nature, cultural, relaxing and chill out time

Adjacent to the centre, you will find the lively Westerpark neighbourhood, part of Amsterdam West. Home to the eponymous park, which combines expansive greenery with the Westergasfabriek's wealth of cultural goings on, this lively neighbourhood is home to a varied mix of independent shops, old-school street markets, shiny new restaurants, and traditional brown cafés.

Must visit vegan coffee & lunchroom: <http://koffieendekoeck.nl/>

More info: <https://www.iamsterdam.com/en/about-amsterdam/amsterdam-neighbourhoods/westerpark>

The Jordaan area – organic & vintage market and the famous Dutch apple pie

Connected to the West area you will find the must visit area - the Jordaan.

This area is famous for its canals, typical canal houses and of course for the organic market on Saturdays and the Vintage market on Mondays, both at the Noordermarkt. At the corner of the Noordermarkt, at Winkel, you will find the best Dutch apple pie in town.

More info: <https://www.iamsterdam.com/en/about-amsterdam/amsterdam-neighbourhoods/centre/jordaan>

9 straatjes or The Nine Streets

The quaint and quirky streets that straddle Amsterdam's grandest canals form the city's most photogenic micro-neighbourhood. Known to locals as De Negen Straatjes or 'The Nine Streets', this special neighbourhood is full to bursting with vintage and designer shopping, speciality stores and cosy cafés.
